Aprons on Display

Judi Chandler embroiders designs on aprons and sells them for $24. These aprons are popular and many have become gifts. She has been embroidering, quilting and sewing since she was a child. "Aprons are becoming popular again," says Judi.

Judi has four butcher-type aprons on display and for sale. One is a Fall apron with a neat pumpkin on it; one is a Christmas Santa; one has canning jars and says "Eat, Drink, Laugh;" and one has three cupcakes pointing out that "Life is Sweet."

There are six fancy aprons that belonged to Charlene Haddinger on display. This type of apron was often worn while serving at church functions and weddings. Some have ric rack, embroidery, or applique.

Eliza Freeman has four nifty aprons displayed also. Some are of the fancy type and some are everyday working aprons.

Scattered among the aprons are old cookie cutters, egg beater, pie pan, and rolling pin. All show evidence of much use and love. There are several cookbooks to entice the viewer to go home, don an apron and cook! Thanks Judi and Eliza.

Silent Auction

The Friends of the Monticello Public Library will be holding their Silent Auction in November with the final bidding on Saturday, November 12th at noon. Please be thinking of items to donate or ideas for baskets, and ask all your friends too! Thanks for your past patronage.

Call the library, Pat Sellon at 938-1527 or Lynn Witt at 938-4836 for more information.

Storage Shed

Thank You to Dylan Beckwith for making the library's storage shed his Eagle Scout Project. After working for two weekends and several days, the building is complete and it is wonderful. Dylan organized the project, met with the library director and board, visited Menards, looked at various kits, ordered the kit the library board selected, rounded up volunteers to help erect and paint the shed that was funded by the Friends of the Monticello Library.

Thanks also to John, Stephanie & Kelsey Beckwith, Michael Fink, Thorin Croushore, Ron Blumer, Christopher Crooks, Amanda, Zach Lehmann, Kelvin Klassy; Kyle Klassy, Levi Dearth, Jeff Dearth, Christopher Beard, Kevin Geib, Patty Blumer, Mike Davis and The Friends.

On September 9th, the library staff moved many items to the shed for storage. We are very proud of Dylan and the excellent job he did and for choosing the library as his community project. We thank everyone who helped Dylan reach his goal and wish him much luck with the paperwork for the Boy Scout Council.

Story Time

Wednesday, September 7th was the first Story Time. Carolyn and six youngsters had a good time learning about the sense of sight. Hearing is next so bring your pre-schooler between the ages of 3-5 and join her every Wednesday morning at 10:00 for stories, crafts, and fun.

Each story time lasts about 30 minutes. Caregivers are urged to accompany their children. There is no 4 year old kindergarten on Wednesdays.

Book Bags for Sale

The library has received a shipment of new library bags for sale. The bags are Hunter Green with White Lettering, long handles a 3" gusset, and sell for $10 so be one of the first in town to tote your groceries, books, DVDs, etc. in our library bag. You'll love it. What a good way to promote and show your support of the library.

E-Book Nooks

The library has purchased four more Nooks for circulation. There are now three Color Nooks, two Black and White Touch Nooks, and one Black and White First Edition Nook.

There is a library of about 28 books on each Nook so come on in and sign up to try one out and see how you like this new technology. Titles can be downloaded from LINKcat also.

Book Group

The Book Group will meet on Wednesday, September 21, 2011 at 7:30 p.m. in the library to discuss A RELIABLE WIFE by Robert Goolrich.

Set in Wisconsin just after the turn of the 20th century, Ralph Truitt advertised for "a reliable wife." "From its opening sentence, A RELIABLE WIFE burrows its way deep under the reader's skin." Pick up a copy today, read it and see if you agree with that critic's statement.

Karen Talarczyk will be leading the discussion and bringing treats.

E-Book Winner

Judi Chandler was the lucky name drawn from 208 slips in the suitcase. She won a First Edition Black & White Nook donated by the Friends of the Monticello Public Library.

Judi was surprised and thrilled and is planning trips with her Nook in mind. Congratulations to you and to everyone who participated in the first Adult Summer Reading Program. There were 208 reviews posted all over the library with patrons having a good time reading them and finding books which they wished to read based on the reviews.

So, if you are looking for a good book to read, come check out these reviews. You can always count on your friends to tell you about good and bad books.

The weekly winners were Carolyn Meyer, Emily Love, Judi Chandler, Mary Davis, Bob Getman, Karen Marti, Pat Sellon, Jane Smith, Karen Brugger, Mary Statz, and Mona Loughan. Congratulations to each of you.
